THE DAY IN CONGRESS

The Senate Thronged with the Overflow from the House.

THE WILSON TARIPF BILL PASSED.

The Close of the Great Debate Marked by Powerful Speeches-Ovations to the Heroes of Debate-How They Voted.

WARRINGTON. Feb. 1—The galleries of the house were so inadequate for the enormous crowds seeking admittance thereto to winess the close of the great teriff struggle that the overflow filled the galleries of the senate. Among the many petitions and memorials presented was one which Mr. Hoar said would recommend itself to all senators. It was from the Loyal Society of Goodfellows of Massathusatts.

the Loyal Society of Goodenows of Assessiblestia.

"What is the name of that society?" Was saired by Mr. Harris (dem. Tenn), and its title was repeated by Mr Hoar.

"Goodfellows of Massachusetts" Mr Harris repeated with an air of astonishment

'Yes," said Mr Hoar, "and it consists of both democrats and republicans."

'I am glad," said Mr Harris, "that there is some sait in it." [Laughter]

And then Mr Hoar crossed the aisle and sug casted to "Brother Harris" that it was suger, not sait.

And then Mr Hoar crossed the aisle and sug cested to "Brother Harris" that it was sugar, not sail.

Mr. Hill said that he had received from the lexislature of New York state certain resolutions which it became his duty to present to the senate and which he now did "without comment or remark".

The resolutions were then road One of them congratulates the president on his abandonist of the Hawaiian policy; and the other is a protest against the Wilson tariff bill.

Mr Allen offered a resolution calling on the secretary of the treasury for information as to the amount of the different kinds of government open money redeemed since January 14, 1875—giving the amounts by years—and also as to the authority for the establishment and maintenance of the gold reserve

"Let that resolution go over till to morrow," said Mr Gorman, and it went over, calling on the secretary of the treasury for a statement as to the offers made for the new bonds, with the names and places of the persons, firms and corporations unking offers; and also as to the amount of bonds sold, to whom, and at what prices.

The bond resolution offered by Mr Stewart some days ago having been laid before the sentence in the treasury, explaining that the only preparation which he had made for issuing bonds had reference to the 3 per cent bonds, a bill for which had passed the sonate about a vear ago, and which it was supposed would pass the house.

Mr. Stewart argued against the secretary's outhority to issue bonds under the provisions.

authority to issue bonds under the provisions of the resumption act.

At the close of the morning hour—2 p m—the bill to repeal the foderal election is was laid before the senate, but us no senator was prepared to spena upon it, it went over informally until to merrow, when Mr. Chandler said he would address the senate, and Mr Dolph wont on with a speech on the Stewart resolution denying the legality of the proposed bond issue.

O'clock, and within five minutes were packed to sufficiation. The members were slow in arriving and when the gavel fell not more than a score of representatives were on the floor. Mr. Reed put in an appearance at 10 45. As his portly figure chowed its way through the crowd of pages, measurement and others grouped about the speaker's desk, he was recognized by the speaker's desk, he was recognized by the feet and observed him wildly. A generous round of applause greeted the arrival of Mr. Crisp, who came in at 11 o'clock and immediately ascended to the speaker's thair.

and immediately ascended to the speaker's chair.

As the hour of meeting approached the galileries were crowded to the doors the sisles were used as seats, the doors presented the appearance of tiving pyramids, and back of them was a solid mass of humanity, hoping against hope that they might some time get within seeing and hearing distance.

The scene on the floor of the house was into ascenting as in the galieries, and there was as air of eager expectancy in the faces of the members as they moved about the floor and gatheryed in knots to discuss the sil-important question of the day. The speaker's table was armanasted with a magnificent bunch of long-stemmed Marachal Nell roses.

Immediately after the reading of yesterday's journal, Mr. Lockwood (dem, N. Y.) made the point of no quorum and the roll was called, disclosing the presence of 22 members.

The house then went into committee of the whole and took up the question pending when the house adjourned yesterday—Mr. Wilson's motion to close debate on the barley amendment, which was acreed to: Yess 179; nays, of When the hour of 12 o'ctook arrived, and in accordance with the special order the committee ruse and the chairman. Mr Richardson reperted to the speaker that the house had had under consideration house bill 4884 to reduce taxation and had adopted several memdments. The speaker then announced that under the special order three hours would be allowed for debate.

The speaker then announced that where the special order three hours would be allowed for debate.

By this time the sam in the corridors had become so great that progress in or through them was dimoult and wall-nigh impossible. The disjoinstic and executive galleries silled up under the pressure for seats by others than those for whom they are generally reserved, and the demands upon Speaker Crieg by members for admission of their wives and daughters well-nigh drove him frantic. Finally, by tacit consent, the floor was opened to these visitors, and they took their places in the lobby behind the rail so that from the rear seats in the hall back to the sides of the chamber in the gallery there was banked a mass of humanity unterly unable to move and almost mable to breathe. Comfortable respiration was an impossibility.

The speaker recognized Mr Reed. This was the signal for a spontaneous outburst of applause, which the speaker made no effort to check. Cheers and applause rang out over the choic. Cheers and applause rang out over the galleries, which bentiaued for some time. Few speakers in the house have ever had a grander addience hanging upon their words. There was not a vacent space to be seen in the house Among the members of the senate who came ever to witness the access in the lower house were to be seen Senators Washburn (Minn.) How and Lodge (Mass) Stockbridge (Mich.) and others.

On the internal revenue amendment Mr. Cockran asked if the propositions could be divided and a separate vote taken on the income tax feature, but the speaker held that it could not Mr. Cockran then called for the yeas and nays on the entire amendments and it was car ried amid applause: Yeas, 183, 1878, 50.

With few groptions the republicans refrained from voting on this proposition.

The amendments in committee having all been agreed to in the house, the question was upon the entrossing and third reading of the bill, and its demanded the previous question. This was ordered without division, but Covered demanded yeas and nays, and this demanded was voted Goven.—Yeas, 28, 1879, 27—not one-fifth seconding the demand. The motion to recommit was these detacted by a vote of 167 2177, the announcement of the vote being greeted with loud applause.

The speaker then put the question, "Shail the hill pass," and the yeas and nays being demanded on this, the roll was called asmidt the most intense interest on the floor and in the galleries. As the names of the doubtful demorate were reached and they yoted "aye" or "no," applause, others and sometimes goodnatured bantering followed their votes.

The greatest applause followed Mr. Cockran's vote of "aye" and also Mr. Committee goodnatured and the affirmative votes of Everett, Celeisenbarner, Lockwood, Magner, McAlery, Tracey, Beltzhoover, Warner, Hanchard and Boatner.

Tracey, Beitzhcover, Warner, Bishchard and

Washington, Feb. 2.—Secretary Her-bert yesterday issued an order to Rear-Admiral Kirkland, directing him to hold himself in readiness to leave and take command of the Pacific station by the steamer of February 17 from San Francisco for Honolulu. Admiral Kirkland will succeed Rear-Admiral John Irwin as the naval commander at Honoidin. The change in command is due to the approaching retirement of Admiral Irwin.

In April next Admiral Benham, whose gallant conduct at Rio is now so generally commended, will rettre by the operation of law. An order will be issued in a short time detaching him from the command of the South Atlan to station which includes the fleet now in Rie harbor. Admiral Benham, it is learned, will be succeeded by Ad-miral Stanton, who was detached from the South Atlantic command for salut-ing Admiral Mello at Rio. The two admirals changed places. Anderson had access to the silver vaults for the purpose of showing visitors through. He pried open the woodwork of some of the silver cheats near the lattice work, slit the bags containing silver dollars and helped himself to a few dollars at a time as he wanted them.

Whether his peculations will amount to more than the seven or eight hundred dollars thus far found out can only be associated by a recount of the silver. There are seven or eight million silver dollars in the walls. Each million dollars weighs in round figures thirty tons; so that the amount of money to be handled is about 240 tons. in his paper. Speaking of so-called independent papers Gen. Hays said:

A shoroughly independent paper is the only paper that can be made ideal—a paper which abound go out stamped with the individuality of the person who edite it, and shall discuss all the great questions of the day in the interest of the whole people and not merely in the interest of the party which it represents.

But when I speak of independence in its truest, highest and best sense, and not in the sense which is displayed by a large majority of the so-called independence in papers of our day. When a paper at the present time announces that it is independent of all parties, the announcement generally means that the paper is in the market for revenue only, ready to amprove set appropriators caring little for principle and everything for money. Such a press is a diagrace to journalism, and so long as independence means only this, I care not to be at the head of 'sa independent journal, but prefer to Eght in the Republican ranks, and edit a Republican paper. The senate has passed a bill abolishing the postal note and providing for the feens of money orders to any amount The fees are reduced to a minimum of $ cents for $2.50 or less, 5 cents for sum over that and up to $5, 10 cents up t $10, and so on. I is said tost the pes sage of this bill save the government an even $100,060 in printing, clerk hire, etc. besides simplifying the duties of postmesters and relieving them from muc labor. There is an entirely coper to organization in the department for auditing and supervising the postal-note bas ness, and is costs as any $100,000 a year. The money order division can handle twice as much business as it is now doing without any addition to the force for there wit be at increase in the number of returns, and it is as easy to settle an account for $100 as for $50. This is one of the reforms recommended by committee that was appointed a year ago to suggest improvements in public service. It was thought by this multtee that congress was indused to abandon the stupic and antique habit of having all laws written out on parob ment with a pen as fast as they were nected, and to adopt the plan of printing them in large, handsome type instead The mistakes made by engrossing clerks have cost the government large same u money sunnally, not to speak of the interested, but there is no further dang r from that direction if the public printer employs good proof-readers.

WE CAN'T DO IT AGAIN.

WE presume that everybody understands that we cannot duplicate the offer we are now making on the James A. Banister fine shoes for men. The only reason why we are able to make the prices which we are now making on these goods is that we purchased them at 52½ cents on the dollar of the wholesale cost price after the failure of Ferriss & Co. We therefore can offer them at the price we are now achieve them at although we do not expect and cannot been that we selling them at, although we do not expect and cannot hope that we will be able to replace these goods next year and sell them at anything like this money. The James A. Banister line of Men's Fine Shoes is famous the world over for correctness in style, thoroughness in workmanship, perfect in fit and high quality material. The Cordovan shoes are known under the various names of Horsehide, Coltskin, etc., and some people make a great talk about them as at a low price when they are sold regularly at $4 and $5 per pair. There are no better shoes of this kind than those of the Banister make and we are running them out, either Calf or Cordovan, at the unheard of

The Men's Goodyear Welt Shoes which we are selling at $1.89 are commonly called hand-sewed and are as good as any one needs for wear. They are made out of the finest calf and are great for wear They sell regular at $3.50 and $4 in all the stores.

The sale on both of these lines of shoes have been unprecedented. We want you to come at once for the pairs which you wish to buy.

Remember, We Can't Do It Again.

We continue the sale of Ladies' Rochester fine hand turn shoes made to sell at $4 for $1,79. Also the sale of Ladies' Fine Machine Sewed Shoes, made by the same manufacturer and over the same last, made to sell at $3 per pair. Take 2s many pairs of them as you want at $1.39 per pair.

We are determined to make this January the largest in the amount of sales of any in the history of the store. We have the bottom knocked out of the prices. Come and get what you want in shoes. The like of this opportunity will not appear again.

that Hiram Bahney, a venerable guest and peddler at the Park Hotel, on North Water street, had committed suicide in room 23, by hanging himself. Bahney did not come to the office in time for late breakfast and it was supposed that he had overslept himself. The porter was sent to the room to awaken the old gentleman. He came back to the office on the run and reported that he believed that Bahney had committed suicide because there was a piece of rope in sight ded to the lower part of the transom frame. Smith cut the rope at the transom frame, but there was no fall of the body because the closed door held the severed rope in place. Then Peck got a chair, and taking out the transom he looked into the room and saw Rahnes hauging against the door, apparently cold in death. He also saw that the key of the door was lying on the washetand; that the lamp was not burning; that Bahney's oversoat and hat were on the ed, and that the bed not been disturbed or occupied during the night. Mr. Peck, at the suggestion of Mr. Smith, cut the ope below the transom frame, and instantly the body of the susside fell over to the right, coming in contact with chair near the door. The head struck the floor and wall face downward, an the feet were in the air at an angle of 40 degrees.
